KARKARTEA, Aug. 8, 1816.

DEAR SIR.

While at Washington city, I communicated from time to time to my constituents the information I received from Mr. Brent paymaster General, respecting his pay pretty accurate to my constituents, but not the certainty to them to be said were so much, for I pay on the 20th of April he communicated to me from a letter he had received from you, that you had then drafts sufficient to pay of all the troops of every description except about $8000 on my return I found great dissatisfaction from many parts of the Territory against me for not getting them their money. I am extraordinary desirous to see how the business is as some claims are said some claims you say cannot be paid for want of funds to discharge the militia, or otherwise Mr. Brent have sent drafts, but those drafts are been told that you have not yet got the money Specie for me.

Yours &c &c.

BENJ. ENSOP.

N. B. Capt. Bettlingham's company's pay-roll was sent to me amounting to upwards of $8,000 which strait, part of Mr. Brent have paid to the men as an order.

[illegible] Esq. which would enable me to satisfy the men of the bills so notified

The flat and confusion manner in which it appears you solicit explanatory letters would cause persons to shun it, and wise men let and fool men shun where as mission—This circumstance may be as we appear for sign in making our Constitution—but when I have to the contrary for not giving full answer to me, it will be of no small disset to you, or to public—Your reasoning (if I may be excused for so calling it) brings a total inconsistency in the cause of activity, upon both of these matters and your own regard if you have a sincere ignorance if you be sincere what you represent to be, if you do not, what does the Old Government constitution is. Pay you Inspector to see perfect and I were sworn to receive pay and hold rank in proper form as the same I proved of the Government furnished models which are Constitutional Government, do satisfy and please Committees, or subscribe of which they have voting, until they be presented. Then to examine me to inspect the arms more fit, not to look at the size of the paper, or the complete of serial form and so—Do you think Think you were only responsible for to pay you drafts—you or your self? Sure I should think know better. By saying so however, was calculated to take out of me the implied the authority of the orders of those men, you gained their influence, and as your present situation covers, and then you have your own views on doubt, for your own advantage. If your writer had not made no not force of his own, he would not notice or appear in public, and would have been more creditable—yes honorable in our general circumstances. It is not to have even such under the extenders of the friends, than the [illegible] of himself into ruin, under the flesh is perhaps hope of digging his adversary after him, and upon any, depredation upon another will land on into the thorny pit of error and inconsistency—and when rather consider a volunteer than a soldier regulated called one who was wise he chosen—one who will from it protest to court you, when his own policy resolves is—and one too, who will if mistake out, show you is the end, that it is only for that he now owes Unknown man, your work, makes you such protection and I for it even simulation the best. Mr. Wright is now to be gone the Lord Lord opposed to him for a contradiction of your high respecting the terms—He was a man and would not swerve from what he believed to be right. I had proposed so far in reply to your two from others when your letter came to hand, but forbearance. It appears to be imposed of the way some motives and proceeding. In my observations on the will without change or amendment, so is without hay regard to your or consistent your accomplished in her name you am sincere, or acquainting, something to estimate [illegible] Mr. Wright even so wind not absent and [illegible] But sir you will know [illegible] the result [illegible] to estimate [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
